Preamble

The School of Education and Human Development is organized and its affairs are conducted in accordance with the Laws and Policies of the Board of Regents of the University of Colorado, and the policies of the University of Colorado system, of the University of Colorado Denver (CU Denver), and of the Downtown Denver campus of CU Denver.

The Bylaws of the SEHD articulate the rules adopted by SEHD faculty and administration for SEHD governance. These Bylaws regulate the affairs of the school and specify how the administration and faculty will work together to make decisions to move the school forward. The Bylaws delineate the process by which work is done and decisions are made. As such, it is a foundational document and acknowledges that details may evolve over time. All rights and responsibilities granted by the Laws and Policies of the Regents, the University of Colorado Faculty Senate Constitution, and the current Constitution and Bylaws of the CU Denver Faculty are incorporated here, whether in fact or principle.¹

The appendices attached to these Bylaws contain support documents that describe further details pertaining to various sections of the Bylaws (e.g., Student Committee, RTP Standards, etc.). These appendices are not to be taken as the Bylaws themselves.

Mission

Leadership for Educational Equity: Prepare and inspire education and mental health leaders to have a profound impact in fostering student opportunity, achievement and success in urban and diverse communities.

¹ Laws of the Regents, <http://www.cu.edu/regents/Laws/laws.html>

Vision

The School of Education and Human Development is a nationally recognized school providing expertise on educational issues and socially-just solutions for urban and diverse communities. Through innovative research and partnerships, we strive to be passionate agents of change, inspiring upcoming generations to learn from the past and shape the future.

School Membership: Responsibilities and Roles

Faculty membership

The membership of the SEHD Faculty consists of all faculty (with appointment of .5 FTE or greater), researchers and those holding the rank of senior instructor or instructor (tenured, tenure-track, clinical teaching track and lecturer), including: (a) faculty on permanent appointments who are on leave of absence or sabbatical leave; (b) faculty on permanent appointment who have administrative duties; (c) faculty supported by external funds; (d) emeriti faculty, (e) associate deans and the dean.

Responsibilities.

The responsibilities of the faculty are laid out in the Laws of the Regents, Section 5.E.5, quoted below.

The faculty takes the lead in decisions concerning selection of faculty, educational policy related to teaching, curriculum, research, academic ethics, and other academic matters. The administration takes the lead in matters of internal operations and external relations of the university. In every case, the faculty and the administration participate in the governance and operation of the university as provided by and in accordance with the laws and policies of the Board of Regents, and the laws and regulations of the State of Colorado. The chair or other designated representative of the Faculty Council shall be the spokesperson for the faculty when addressing the Board of Regents on matters of importance to shared governance.

Tenure track faculty responsibilities include SEHD criteria for reappointment, tenure and promotion decisions, annual review and post-tenure reviews² (see Appendix A for SEHD Standards and Criteria).

² Reference Regent 5.B. 4 Tenured Appointments and 5.B.5 Appointment, Reappointment, Tenure, and Promotion Criteria and Standards for Tenure-Track and Tenured Faculty

An elected team of faculty and staff serve to collaborate with the dean on matters related to the SEHD leadership and finance (currently the Leadership & Finance Team). Elected members of the Leadership and Finance Team serve as spokespersons for the faculty in lieu of a faculty chair.

Roles.

The faculty shall have the principal role for originating academic policy and standards, including initial authorization and direction of all courses, curricula, and degrees offered, admissions criteria, regulation of student academic conduct and activities, and determination of candidates for degrees.

The faculty shall have the principal role for originating scholastic policy, including scholastic standards for admission, grading (consistent with the Uniform Grading System of the University), continuation, graduation, and honors.

Administration Membership

Dean

The Dean, as the chief administrative officer of the School, determines the administrative structure of the school and appoints individuals to serve in administrative capacities, unless otherwise stipulated in the governance document.³ The dean is appointed on the nomination of the Chancellor of the CU Denver campus, who will have consulted with a committee of the faculty.

Responsibilities.

4.A. 2C) Each dean shall be responsible for matters at the college or school level including but not limited to enforcement of admission requirements; the efficiency of departments and other divisions within the college or school; budgetary planning and allocation of funds; faculty assignments and workloads recommendations on personnel actions; curriculum planning; academic advising accountability and reporting.

The dean is responsible for the general functioning and efficiency of the school.

In accordance with the SEHD's Mission and Vision, open communication, collegiality, and collaboration are essential to our decision making process at all levels: school, program, and committee. The SEHD Bylaws document suggests that the Dean:

- put forth a good faith effort to be present for the discussions that precede decision making;
- understand that once decisions are made, the preference is to let them stand for at least one year;

Roles.

The dean supervises the faculty (including negotiating differentiated workloads⁴), faculty program representatives, center directors, associate and assistant deans, and other school staff, except where such responsibility has been delegated.

The dean's roles include managing external affairs and relations, including:

- Maintaining clear planning priorities (embodied in a strategic plan)
- Fundraising activities and priority-setting in the School
- Establishing and maintaining working relationships with organizations that partner with, are served by, and/or whose decisions may impact the School.

Associate Deans

The dean consults with faculty and appoints associate deans and determines their responsibilities. Associate deans are responsible for carrying out policies and procedures of the SEHD and represent the dean when appropriate. Associate deans hold faculty rank (tenured or tenure-track, or clinical faculty appointments). Associate deans hold at-will administrative assignments.

Assistant Deans

The dean may appoint a staff member to serve as assistant dean as needed for administrative purposes.

Staff and Student Employees

Staff members support the academic, research, and community service mission of the school.

Qualifications are enumerated, as appropriate, during search processes in formal position descriptions and in performance review documents.

Professional Review

- Reappointment, Tenure and Promotion (RTP): The SEHD has developed standards and criteria for RTP which follow the Regents' policies and procedures for reappointment, tenure and promotion⁵. The SEHD document can be found in Appendix A.
- External Review Procedures: SEHD follows the Regents' procedures for soliciting external reviewers for comprehensive reviews and for promotion and tenure reviews⁶.
- Post Tenure Review: SEHD follows the Regents' procedures for tenured faculty post-tenure review⁷.
- Professional Plan: SEHD follows the university guidelines for writing professional plans⁸.

Shared Governance¹¹

Shared governance is the set of practices under which faculty and administration participate in significant decisions concerning the operation and direction of the school. The Bylaws set out the principles, rules, and procedures that faculty and administration use to govern the SEHD. Other members of the SEHD community, including staff, student employees and the student body, may participate through committee service, feedback and conversation and support for tasks and operations. The processes for decision-making that follow should guarantee that all administration and faculty have a voice in decision-making in the appropriate domain related to their responsibilities and engagement within the school.

Leadership and Finance Team(s)

A Leadership and Finance Team (or teams) will be convened, at least once a semester, by the dean to promote implementation of the SEHD's mission, strategic plan, and bylaws through broad-based strategic leadership. Membership of the team is comprised of the dean, associate deans, assistant deans, Executive Director of Continuing Professional Education, the Staff Advisory Council Chair elected by the SEHD staff, and four faculty members elected by the faculty at large (one assistant professor/tenured track, one associate professor/tenured, one assistant, associate or full professor tenure-track tenured/tenured-track with expertise in fostering diversity inherent in urban education and community partnership, one senior instructor/clinical faculty– with at least one of these individuals serving as a program representative). It is the responsibility of these four elected faculty members to represent faculty voices in decision making and to communicate process and outcomes to the faculty.

⁹ Board of Regents 5.B.6 Evaluation of Faculty

¹⁰ Reference Administrative Policy Statement #1007

APS #107-Misconduct in Research, Scholarship, and Creative Activities

¹¹ Although titles for various teams, committees and their respective leaders may change, the essence of the group's charge and the leader's role will remain the same.

The Dean shall conduct Leadership and Finance Team meetings. Minutes of Leadership and Finance Team meetings are regularly posted to faculty and other SEHD members.

Programs/Program Leaders/Representatives

Programs are organizations of faculty and students based on common degrees, endorsements, licenses, or professional foci.

Each program nominates a faculty member to serve as a program leader/representative. The nature of the role and responsibilities of program leaders/representatives is flexible, responsive to the school's and the program's needs and worked out jointly with the dean. The nature of compensation for this position is also flexible; however, the program leader/representative will be compensated in some way. It is the responsibility of the program representative to represent faculty voices in decision making and to communicate process and outcomes to the program faculty.

Program leaders/representatives meet together as a group, under the direction of the dean. This body acts as another important venue for shared governance as it considers issues and acts on areas of common concern to faculty, programs, and administration. It is the responsibility of the program leaders/representatives to represent faculty voices in decision making and to communicate process and outcomes from the program faculty.

In addition, should an associate dean serve as faculty in a program area or attend program meetings, it remains the responsibility of the program representative to plan and conduct the business of the program's meetings.

Decision Making

Working together involves a range of norms and practices that guides/informs/contributes to group decision making. In accordance with the SEHD's Mission and Vision, open communication, collegiality, and collaboration are essential to our decision making processes at all levels: school, program, and committee. The SEHD Bylaws suggest that faculty:

- put forth a good faith effort to be present for the discussions that precede decision making;

- understand that a proxy refers to a vote, and that one's proxy should be given rarely and after the person has been involved in the ongoing discussions.

- understand that once decisions are made, the preference is to let them stand for at least one year.

Voting

Additionally, individuals who do not meet the definition of membership found on page 2 may be annually selected for voting membership by majority vote at the first faculty meeting of the academic year...¹²

1. Method of voting—Majority votes determine most decisions in the faculty meetings. While consensus is the ideal, on contested issues every effort should be made to move forward with solutions that accommodate different perspectives and needs while ensuring that the school moves in accordance with its mission, vision, values, and goals. Faculty members are encouraged to participate in discussions and keep informed about issues that come up for a vote. When voting occurs at the meeting, a private paper ballot must be used for voting if two or more voting members so request. Absentee votes may be cast by sending a proxy vote to either the program representative or an associate dean, provided they have participated in the discussion. Unless directed otherwise by the absentee faculty member in the proxy communication, the designated voter may accept amendments that arise in the deliberative process.
2. Timing of voting—No less than 48 hours prior to a faculty meeting, faculty members shall receive notice and full description of any proposed action regarding changes to these Bylaws, to degree programs, or to policies and procedures for faculty evaluation. This ensures time for faculty to carefully review the motion(s) for change.

In the event of a need to expedite the decision making process, the faculty may vote to set aside the voting procedure as stated in the Bylaws and vote on a motion that has been presented without the 48 hour notice. In this case, the majority of those present will carry the decision.

¹²Regent Law, Article 4.A.4, Faculty <https://www.cu.edu/regents/Laws/article-04.html>

Quorum

A quorum shall be comprised of 50 per cent plus 1 of the present SEHD Voting Faculty plus those voting via proxy, established at the commencement of each meeting. If a quorum is present, a quorum shall be assumed to be present throughout the meeting, unless a point of order is made about a quorum.

Faculty Meetings

The dean as chief administrative officer presides at all SEHD meetings. The Leadership and Finance Team shall work with the dean on generating the SEHD faculty meeting agendas. Meetings are conducted in accordance with policies, procedures, and values outlined in the Bylaws. Faculty may decide on the method by which meetings will be conducted. The Dean may assign a faculty member to assist in matters of meeting procedure.

1. Timelines and requirements for calling meetings—Meetings are scheduled at the beginning of the Academic Year, and a schedule is published to the faculty.

A regular meeting of the faculty shall be called by the dean and/or elected faculty from the Leadership & Finance Team at least once per semester (Fall and Spring). Special meetings may be called by the dean if, in his/her discretion, the need arises.

2. Number and frequency of meetings—Faculty typically meet monthly or at regular intervals determined by the faculty and administration.
3. Agenda—Agenda for SEHD faculty meetings are created by the dean with input from the Leadership and Finance Team. In the week prior to the meeting, a proposed agenda is circulated, and faculty members can request additions to the agenda. Faculty members shall receive notice no less than 48 hours prior to a faculty meeting of any proposed vote regarding changes to these Bylaws, degree programs, or policies and procedures for faculty evaluation.
4. Minutes and Reporting—The dean designates a faculty or staff colleague to prepare the minutes of each faculty meeting and provide a copy to every member of the faculty within a week. Approval of the minutes will be the first order of business at the next meeting.

Internal and External Committees

These SEHD committees, standing and ad hoc, should address the objectives in the SEHD diversity plan.

SEHD Standing Committees

Note that service on the Leadership and Finance Team, Dean's Team fulfills service in the same way as standing and ad hoc committee participation.

SEHD committees act as the official faculty advisory bodies for the SEHD Faculty. The faculty and dean have the ability to create ad hoc committees, to eliminate committees (except those required by applicable laws and regulations), and to prepare the charges for those committees. Committees may create subcommittees to attend to matters within their purview.

An electoral process is utilized to constitute committee membership. Faculty may indicate their interest to serve on a committee on election ballots. Ballots will list faculty according to rank – with instructions to vote across rank, to ensure rank balance on committees (except RTP). A representative from the Leadership and Finance Team, in consultation with the associate dean, is responsible for tallying votes and overseeing the overall voting process (see Voting Process in Decision Making).

Membership and Organization of SEHD Faculty Committees

1. Except where authorized by the SEHD Faculty and Bylaws, members of SEHD standing committees or subcommittees are required to be members of SEHD Faculty.
2. Each standing committee shall be composed of no fewer than three members of the SEHD faculty.
3. Each SEHD committee may appoint ex officio members, including undergraduate and graduate students, for terms not to exceed one year. These members shall serve in an advisory capacity without voting rights or responsibilities.
4. Committee membership should be staggered to ensure continuity as members cycle on and off the committee. It is recommended that terms be three years.
5. A faculty member may serve multiple terms on a committee; however, he/she must skip one year before returning to the same committee.

All faculty members are strongly encouraged to participate in shared governance by becoming members of at least one SEHD standing committee.

In addition to regular oral reports in SEHD faculty meetings, each committee will post monthly minutes and an end-of-year report to the faculty regarding the activities of the committee. The annual report should devote a section to recommendations for improving process at the committee level or concerning the SEHD Bylaws more generally. Committee reports, summarizing activities and process recommendations are to be submitted to a designated associate dean prior to the end of the academic year. Recommendations of committees regarding changes in policy and substantive changes in procedure are subject to approval by SEHD faculty and the dean (refer to the method of voting).

Leadership and Finance Team.

The committee will be convened by the dean to promote implementation of the SEHD's mission and strategic plan through broad-based strategic leadership. For details, refer to the Pattern of Administration (POA) in the SEHD faculty handbook.

Student Committee.

The committee reviews appeals from students and holds hearings when needed. The committee is composed of faculty members from multiple SEHD programs and one SEHD staff representative. The faculty members are elected by the SEHD faculty and serve for three years, with the possibility of continuing to serve longer. A staff representative is assigned to the committee. Each year the Student Committee may opt to elect one of its members to serve as chair. The chair directs regular meetings, advises students and faculty on policies and procedures and schedules the committee for appeal hearings. See Appendix B for Student Committee document for the Student Appeals process and Honor Code.

Curriculum Committee.

This committee reviews and approves new course and new program proposals and approves graduate school appointments. In addition, this committee may address curricular priorities or goals of the school, such as helping ensure that the program curricula reflect the school's diversity, social justice and equity mission. This committee also reviews graduate faculty status of part-time faculty. The committee is composed of faculty members from multiple SEHD programs and at least one SEHD staff representative. The faculty members are elected by the SEHD faculty and serve for three years, with the possibility of continuing to serve longer. Each year the Curriculum Committee may opt to elect one of its members to serve as chair. The chair directs regular meetings and advises students and faculty on policies and procedures. A staff representative is assigned to the committee and serves ex officio.

Diversity Committee.

This committee addresses all the objectives in the school's diversity plan which includes the areas of culture and climate, diverse representation among faculty, staff, and students, and cultural competency. The committee is composed of faculty members from multiple SEHD programs and one SEHD staff representative. The faculty members are elected by the SEHD faculty and at least one staff member is elected by staff. The faculty members are elected by the SEHD faculty and serve for three years, with the possibility of continuing to serve longer. Each year the Diversity Committee may opt to elect one of its members as chair. The chair directs regular meetings, advises students and faculty on policies and procedures.

Merit Review Committees.

The Merit Review Committee for Tenure/Tenure Track faculty conducts the annual merit review for all tenure and tenure track faculty. The committee is elected from among tenured associate and full professors in an at-large SEHD election, and must include both associate and full professors. The committee is composed of faculty members from multiple SEHD programs and one SEHD staff representative. The faculty members are elected by the SEHD faculty and serve for two years, with the possibility of continuing to serve longer.

The Merit Review Committee for Clinical faculty conducts the annual merit review for all clinical track faculty. The committee is elected from among tenured associate and full professors in an at-large SEHD election, and must include both associate and full professors. The committee is composed of faculty members from multiple SEHD programs and one SEHD staff representative. The faculty members are elected by the SEHD faculty.

Each year the Merit Review Committee may opt to elect one of its members as chair. The chair guides the meeting and advises faculty on policies and procedures. It is recommended that members of the Merit Review Committee not be required to also serve on the RTP Committee.

Retention, Tenure and Promotion Committee.

The SEHD RTP Committee is a seven-member elected committee. The committee is elected from among tenured associate or full professors in an at-large SEHD election. The term of election is three years, staggered. The committee is charged with reviewing tenure, promotion and post-tenure cases. The dean, the associate dean in charge of the SEHD RTP process, the Dean's Review Committee and the faculty member who serves on the CU Denver Vice Chancellor's Advisory Committee for Reappointment, Tenure, and Promotion (VCAC) are not eligible for election to the SEHD RTP Committee. Each year the committee elects a chair from the members of the RTP Committee and may opt to elect a co-chair. The chair directs and guides the meeting and advises faculty on policies and procedures. A co-chair supports the chair and may anticipate taking responsibility for chair responsibilities in the upcoming year. It is recommended that members of the RTP Committee not be required to also serve on the Merit Review Committee.

Ad Hoc Committees

Ad hoc committees are convened and constituted as needed to complete specific tasks. They may serve for up to one year. The membership of the committee may be elected, appointed, or comprised of volunteers from the faculty. Faculty or administration may call for an ad hoc committee, and pending Leadership & Finance Team approval, organize, give a charge to the group, and determine how it will be constituted (number of members, type, election or selection).

Search Committees.

Faculty search committees, including the chair, are appointed by the dean, and shall have representation from the program area for which the program in which the search is being conducted. Faculty search committees in collaboration with the dean prepare position descriptions (reviewed and approved by the dean), actively search for an appropriate and diverse candidate pool, set procedures for the review of applications, review applications, recommend to the dean candidates for interviews, and interview candidates. Search committees, with input from the faculty, forward an unranked list of candidates noting strengths and weaknesses to the dean, who makes the hiring decision and negotiates the terms of the contract with the finalist.

Governance Concerns and Appeals Committee.

This committee is convened by the Associate Dean for Faculty Affairs when issues are brought forward by a SEHD member related to processes or balance of governance or when a faculty member appeals a merit or post-tenure rating. The committee hears the concerns and provides a recommendation to the relevant parties which may include the dean, a program representative, a committee, or other faculty. This committee is not a replacement for the University Faculty Grievance Process.

(CU Privilege & Tenure Committee: <https://www.cu.edu/content/privilegeandtenure>)

University External Committees

Faculty members are encouraged to participate in faculty governance and leadership through campus and system wide committees, including faculty assembly and affiliated sub-committees. However, faculty members are strongly encouraged to serve on committees at the SEHD level before serving on university external committees. Members of these external committees may be elected, appointed, or volunteer.

UNIVERSITY OF COLORADO DENVER

RTP Standards and Criteria

Research, Teaching and Service

Rebecca Kantor, Dean

July 19, 2012

Revised on November 24, 2014

Approved by the Provost's Office on 12/3/14

Preamble:

Reappointment, tenure and promotion (RTP) decisions are among the most important processes that shape and define the University. The criteria outlined below form the basis for RTP reviews within the School of Education and Human Development (SEHD). As committees review candidates, they will consider all of these criteria and use collegial and professional judgment in arriving at evaluations of prior work and estimates of potential contributions.

The review process for tenure and promotion is designed to align the work of the faculty with the mission of the University and the School and to promote and ensure excellence as a standard for that work. The purpose of this document is to articulate the standards and criteria for the School of Education and Human Development to guide the faculty in terms of their own career advancement and for the review of their peers. The goal is to provide clear standards, criteria for meeting those standards, and examples of ways that individual faculty can document evidence in the form of activities, outcomes and products that address the criteria.

These criteria were last approved by the (SOE) faculty during the spring 1993 semester.

Proposed Standards and Criteria:

A school of education and human development defines its work as the generation of new knowledge and innovative practices for the fields contained within the school, and also in terms of our impact on our community stakeholders. Through disciplined inquiry and scholarly discourse, faculty members contribute to the understanding and solution of important problems of educational practice and policy. The School encourages diversity in choices of problems to be addressed and methods of inquiry used. The School also encourages collaborative and cross-disciplinary research as faculty members address significant problems of practice.

The impact on community can be framed as instructional (e.g., the development of professional development initiatives), service (e.g., participation in university- school committees or community organizational boards), or research and scholarship (e.g., research collaborative in Denver Public Schools). Our stakeholders can be at any level—local, state, national or international. Some faculty choose to work across these levels, and others choose to focus more intensely on one level or another.

Therefore, reflected in the SEHD standards and criteria for promotion and tenure is our commitment to provide exemplary leadership in: the development of program and pedagogies; in the effective preparation and continued development of teachers and clinicians, leaders and new researchers; work in the service of school reform and improvement; and, research and scholarship in all of these domains. Research and scholarly writing are an important part of the work of faculty in the School of Education. Thus there are two pathways to achieving rank and tenure as an Associate Professor: Excellence in research with meritorious in teaching and service or excellence in teaching with meritorious in research and service and the criteria are presented for each pathway. For full Professor, the evaluation is focused on the “whole of the accomplishments” of the candidate. In other words, some candidates will have a greater proportion of excellence in research/scholarship and others a greater proportion of program/partnership and teaching excellence in their dossier, and each will be evaluated for overall excellence in their accomplishments.

While the SEHD's standards and rubrics are organized in the traditional dossier categories of teaching, research and service, the faculty in a School of Education and Human Development like ours, often work at the intersections of these areas. These intersections between teaching and scholarship, or between service and teaching, are critical given our mission to partner with local schools and communities in the preparation of new teachers and clinicians, as well as the promotion of school improvement and positive student outcomes in the Denver community and beyond.

Therefore, candidates will discuss their accomplishments and scholarly products that relate to work at various intersections in all categories that are relevant but will be careful to make this transparent. For example, an empirical study of a teaching approach whose findings are published, or an innovative program that is described and published and shown to have impact on others, might contribute to excellence in teaching and at the same time contribute to excellence in research. Teaching materials like chapter supplements, videos, and online course materials however are placed only in teaching as they are products developed for specific university courses, classes, seminars or practica.

Overall, it is the responsibility of each candidate to provide the context for his or her work in a clear narrative and presentation of data. This documentation is critical to the process so that each reviewer at every level will understand the candidate's work and provide a thorough and fair evaluation.

APPENDIX B: STUDENT COMMITTEE APPEAL PROCEDURE AND HONOR CODE

School of Education and Human Development

Student Committee Appeals Process

Purposes

One purpose of the Student Committee (SC) is to review students' academic appeals regarding retention, disenrollment, dismissal and other academic matters such as grade appeal, academic dishonesty, or honor code issues. The committee assumes an impartial and unbiased stance toward all participants in the academic appeal process, and focuses on adherence to university policy and basic standards of fairness and professionalism. Appeals are heard by this committee at the written request of an SEHD student. Appeals may originate from students in any degree or licensure program in the SEHD to which the student has been admitted. The SC's decision will be communicated to the student, faculty involved in the decision under appeal, the Associate Dean who oversees the program, and the Dean. The SC's decision will be considered final unless the student chooses to appeal directly to the Dean according to the procedures outlined below.

Committee Composition

The committee is composed of faculty members from multiple SEHD programs and one SEHD staff representative. Typically, faculty members serve for two years, with the possibility of continuing to serve longer. Each year a committee chair is elected from the members of the SC. The chair directs regular SC meetings and, in conjunction with the Director of Academic Services and/or his/her designee, advises students and faculty on SC policies and procedures and schedules the committee for appeal hearings.

Student Academic Appeals

The SC hears appeals that relate directly to academic issues. These issues may include, but are not limited to:

- dismissal from an SEHD degree program;
- grade appeals and problems related to course grades;
- appeals related to comprehensive examinations or activities and qualifying examinations or activities;
- academic honor code issues.

The SC might refer non academic appeals to other avenues of appeal, including, but not limited to:

- sexual harassment or discrimination of any kind - CU Denver Civil Rights Officer;
- financial concerns - Bursar's Office or Financial Aid;

SEHD Bylaws

Approved by Provost's Office 12/3/14

- student conduct - Student Code of Conduct;
- teacher licensure - Colorado Department of Education;
- other, or more general concerns - CU Denver Ombuds Office.

When appeals are reviewed by the committee, only materials directly relevant to the appeal will be considered. The student and the faculty member or members involved in the appeal should keep documentation of and materials related to the appeal for a period of five years from the beginning of the semester in which the issue(s) relevant to the appeal began. An official file of all materials will be kept by the SEHD (see "Retention of Academic Appeals Materials" below).

Faculty Participants in Student Academic Appeals

Faculty participants in the academic appeal process are those faculty members who have been part of the decision making process under appeal, witness(es) to student/faculty discussions, administrators and other CU Denver officials as required for purposes of clarity, safety and procedural propriety. Other examples of participants include a course instructor or instructors, program area faculty, internship supervisors, and program teams.

Student Participants in the Student Academic Appeals Process

Student participants in the academic appeals process are the student who has filed an appeal for the SC to review and another person to accompany the grievant to Appeal Level 3 (if applicable). The other person may be a friend, colleague, classmate or faculty member, but not a member of the SEHD staff.

Academic Appeal Procedures

Appeal Level One--Initial Decision

1. The first step in an appeal is for the student to meet with the faculty member or members who made the decision the student wishes to contest. Issues pertaining to the student's grade or performance, evaluation criteria for decision making or differences of opinion that exist should be discussed in an attempt to work through the disagreement. This first step of meeting with faculty member(s) should take place as soon as possible after the precipitating decision and in no case later than 30 days after the end of the term in which this decision took place. All such initial meetings should be attended by at least one additional (neutral) CU Denver faculty member or administrator who will serve as observer and note-taker.

Appeal Level Two--Student Committee Review

2. If the issue remains unresolved after the student/faculty member meeting, the student may appeal to the SC through a written request submitted to the chair of the SEHD SC within 30 days after the meeting with faculty member(s) outlined in Appeal Level 1 above. Academic Services may offer advice to the student regarding how to compose and file the appeal. The written appeal must be in the form of a letter submitted by the student to the SC Chair describing the complaint in detail. The letter should answer these questions:
 - a. What is the term/year you are appealing? Note: Appeals should be submitted within one semester following the occurrence of the academic issue being appealed. See number 4 below.
 - b. What, exactly, is being appealed? Clearly provide the course number and title for a grade appeal or the specific program for retention, dismissal, or honor code appeal.
 - c. What are your specific objections to the decision under appeal? Refer to specifics on the course syllabus or to specific program or SEHD policies and procedures, handbooks, forms and signed documents.
 - d. What is the rationale for your objections? Provide a succinct narrative which clearly indicates why you believe the decision under appeal was not appropriate. Refer to the available materials (e.g. syllabi, policies and procedures documents) as appropriate in providing your rationale. Focus specifically on your individual appeal and refrain from referring to other students or faculty.
 - e. What changes do you request and what are your specific reasons to support your request? Indicate clearly what you believe would be a fair resolution to the issue under appeal.
3. As noted above, the letter of appeal should be submitted within 30 days following the meeting with the faculty member or members outlined in the first level of the appeal process. The SC chair will review the appeal letter and request further information if necessary, and, if he/she deems the appeal to be within the purview of the committee, will forward the letter to SC committee members and the Associate Dean responsible for the program to which the student was admitted. If the letter is submitted between the end of the spring and the beginning of the fall semester, the letter will be reviewed at the first SC meeting in the fall semester. Academic appeals will be reviewed and responded to during the months of September through November and February until the first week in May.

SEHD Bylaws

Approved by Provost's Office 12/3/14

4. The faculty member or members named in the student's appeal will be notified of the student's appeal and provided with a copy of the student's appeal letter. The faculty member or members will respond to the appeal in a written statement to the SC within 14 days of their receipt of the notification of appeal. Exceptions to this 14-day limit may be allowed in special circumstances if the SC deems appropriate. Additionally, all parties involved in the appeal may receive copies of all submitted documentation pertaining to this case on a need-to-know basis as determined by the SC chair.
5. The student's written appeal request (containing all required information) and faculty response will be reviewed by the SC at their next regularly scheduled meeting. The SC chair may ask for additional materials as needed.
6. If students or faculty member/members fail to provide requested information in writing, the SC will proceed based on the available evidence.
7. The SC will reach a decision based on the documentation. The SC's decision will be communicated in writing to the student, faculty member/members, and Dean within 14 days of the SC decision. If deemed appropriate by the SC, a formal appeal hearing may be scheduled for the next regular meeting time of the SC. A majority vote of the SC is necessary in order to schedule a formal appeal hearing

Appeal Level Three--Student Committee Formal Hearing

8. At the appeal hearing, the student and the faculty member/members both have the opportunity to make a 20-minute (maximum) oral presentation.
9. During the appeal hearing, SC members may request further information or ask questions.
10. The student and faculty member/members may bring one advocate to the appeal hearing. This individual may listen, take notes and advise the student but may not present to the committee. Advocates may be faculty, classmates, students or friends, but may not be staff members of SEHD. In addition, the SC may also request the presence of any administrators and/or other university officials as required for purposes of clarity, safety and procedural propriety.
11. The SC will review all information and render a timely decision. In most cases, and depending on their scheduled meetings, the SC will reach a decision within 40 days after the appeal hearing. Neither the student nor the faculty member or members involved in the appeal may be present, or consulted by, the SC during these deliberations.

12. The student and faculty member or members will be notified by letter within 45 days of the concluding decision of the SC. A copy of this decision will be forwarded to the Dean of the SEHD.

Appeal Level Four--Dean, School of Education & Human Development

The student or faculty member's next level of appeal is the Dean of the SEHD. Appeals materials provided to the SC will be shared with the Dean. The Dean may also request additional information as needed. This appeal to the Dean must occur within 30 days of the SC decision.

Student Committee composition for formal appeal hearings

- A SEHD Associate Dean serves as the non-voting committee convener during the formal appeal hearing.
- A majority of voting members or their appointed substitutes must be present for the formal appeal hearing.
- The student, the faculty member/members and the SC may each have one non-voting representative at the appeal hearing. This representative may listen and advise but not participate in the presentations to the committee. The representative may not be a staff member of SEHD. In addition, the SC may request the presence of any administrators and/or other university officials as required for purposes of clarity, safety and procedural propriety.
- Both the involved faculty member/members and the student may be present during the entire appeal hearing.
- If a SC member has extensive knowledge of the case or the student (e.g. is a member of the decision team which is being appealed or is the student's advisor) he or she will be asked to recuse him or herself from the appeal hearing.
- Appeal hearings may be video or audio taped only if all parties at the hearing agree to this procedure. Requests for video or audio taping must be made in writing, addressed to the SC committee chair and received at least one week before a hearing is scheduled. The chair will contact participants for a yes or no vote and alert all participants of the outcome of the vote prior to the meeting.

Retention of Academic Appeal Materials

SEHD responsibilities

All materials related to an academic appeal, including written statements from students and faculty, written decisions by the SC and requests for materials from the Dean of the SEHD and the CU Denver Graduate School will be housed in a secure confidential file in the Academic Services Office. This official file will be maintained under the name of the student originating the appeal. The official file will be retained for at least five years.

Student responsibilities

The student is responsible for keeping copies of all written materials submitted to both the faculty member and members and those submitted to the SC. It would be appropriate for the student to keep records of times, dates, content of conversations and suggested solutions discussed during the process of trying to resolve the problem.

Faculty responsibilities

The faculty member or members should keep copies of all written materials related to student appeal. This would include student letters, responses, and course or program documents related to the appeal. It is also recommended that faculty members keep records of times, dates, content of conversations and suggested solutions discussed during the process of trying to resolve the problem with a student.

School of Education & Human Development Student Honor Code

The School of Education & Human Development is committed to the Honor Code of the University of Colorado Denver.

A university's reputation is built on a standing tradition of excellence and scholastic integrity. As members of the CU Denver academic community, faculty and students accept the responsibility to maintain the highest standards of intellectual honesty and ethical conduct in completing all forms of academic work and internships associated with the University.

SEHD Student Honor Code

SEHD Bylaws

Approved by Provost's Office 12/3/14

Education at CU Denver is conducted under the honor system. All students entering an academic program should have developed the qualities of honesty and integrity, and each student should apply these principles to his or her academic and subsequent professional career. All students are expected to achieve a level of maturity which is reflected by appropriate conduct at all times. The type of conduct which violates the School of Education & Human Developments Student Honor Code may include but is not limited to the following:

Academic Dishonesty

1. Plagiarism
2. Cheating
3. Fabrication, falsification and deception
4. Multiple submissions
5. Misuse of academic materials
6. Complicity

Violation of any University of Colorado Denver or School of Education & Human Development policy

7. Intoxication
8. Unprofessionalism
9. Disruptive or disorderly conduct or any violation of the Student Code of Conduct

Academic Dishonesty

Students are expected to know, understand, and comply with the ethical standards of the University. In addition, students have an obligation to inform the appropriate official of any acts of academic dishonesty by other students of the University. Academic dishonesty is defined as a student's use of unauthorized assistance with intent to deceive an instructor or other such person who may be assigned to evaluate the student's work in meeting course and degree requirements.

Plagiarism

Plagiarism is the use of another person's distinctive ideas or words without acknowledgment. The incorporation of another person's work into one's own required appropriate identification and acknowledgment, regardless of the means of appropriation. The following are considered to be forms of plagiarism when the source is not noted:

1. Word-for-word copying of another person's ideas or words.
2. The mosaic (the interspersing of one's own words here and there while, in essence, copying another's work).
3. The paraphrase (the rewriting of another's work, yet still using their fundamental idea or theory).
4. Fabrication of references (inventing or counterfeiting sources).
5. Submission of another's work as one's own.
6. Neglecting quotation marks on material that is otherwise acknowledged.

Acknowledgment is not necessary when the material used is common knowledge.

Cheating

Cheating involves the possession, communication, or use of information, materials, notes, study aids or other devices not authorized by the instructor in an academic exercise, or communication with another person during such an exercise. Some examples of cheating include:

1. Copying from another's paper or receiving unauthorized assistance from another during an academic exercise or in the submission of academic material;

SEHD Bylaws

Approved by Provost's Office 12/3/14

2. Using any electronic, or digital, or technological or other device when its use has been disallowed;
3. Collaborating with another student or students during an academic exercise without the consent of the instructor.

Fabrication, Falsification and Deception

Fabrication involves inventing or counterfeiting information, e.g., creating results not obtained in a study or research. Falsification, on the other hand, involves deliberately altering or changing results to suit one's needs in an experiment or other academic exercise. Deception is providing false information or knowingly withholding information.

Multiple Submissions

This is the submission of academic work for which academic credit has already been earned, when such submission is made without instructor authorization.

Misuse of Academic Materials

The misuse of academic materials includes, but is not limited to, the following:

1. Stealing or destroying library or reference materials or computer programs;
2. Stealing or destroying another student's notes or materials, or having such materials in one's possession without the owner's permission;
3. Receiving assistance in locating or using sources of information in an assignment when such assistance has been forbidden by the instructor;
4. Illegitimate possession, disposition, or use of examinations or answer keys to examinations.
5. Unauthorized alteration, forgery, or falsification;
6. Unauthorized sale or purchase of examinations, papers, or assignments.

Complicity in Academic Dishonesty

Complicity involves knowingly contributing to another's acts of academic dishonesty.

Intoxication

This is defined as being under the influence of drugs or alcohol in any University setting, classroom setting, practicum/internship, professional development school/site, computer lab or shared student space that compromises the student's ability to learn and participate in educational activities, interferes with the learning process of other students and/or customers and clients of the School of Education & Human Development. Students who have difficulties with alcohol and/or other substances may seek assistance from services available on campus such as the CU Denver Student/Community Counseling Center.

Unprofessional Behavior

Any conduct including electronic communications, both on and off campus, that interfere with the student's ability to maintain professional standards as defined in program handbooks, professional codes of ethics, University policies or procedures or reflects poorly on the student, School of Education & Human Development or University is prohibited.

Disruptive or Disorderly Conduct

Disruptive or disorderly conduct in any University setting or partner setting, such as the disregard of rights of faculty, staff, administration and peers, threatening behaviors in any medium of communication and sexual harassment are examples of disruptive and disorderly conduct and a violation of the University Code of Student Conduct is prohibited. The Code of Student Conduct can be found by visiting the Office of Community Standards and Wellness website at www.ucdenver.edu/life/services/standards.

SEHD Bylaws
Approved by Provost's Office 12/3/14

All proceedings concerned with academic dishonesty are confidential to the extent permitted by law.

A student accused of academic dishonesty has the right to:

- admit to the charges and accept the penalty imposed by the instructor. If the student admits to the charges, the faculty member will invoke an appropriate penalty, which could include the issuance of a failing grade in the course. If the faculty member believes further action is warranted, then the faculty member may request a hearing of the Academic Ethics Committee, which will determine if further action is necessary;
- dispute the charges or the penalty by following the Student Academic Appeal process.

Procedures for faculty encountering academic dishonesty

In order to facilitate the accusation process, it is suggested that faculty members include in their syllabi a statement concerning their policy on matters of academic dishonesty.

- A. A faculty member who suspects that a student may be guilty of academic dishonesty should react quickly. S/he should gather as much evidence as possible as rapidly as possible: e.g. gathering names of and impressions from potential witnesses, listing potential references that may have been plagiarized, or retaining any hard copies of evidence, such as "cheat sheets" or tests that might have been copied and/or copied from. S/he should commit as many details of the incident to writing as quickly as possible as details regarding an incident can be quickly forgotten.
- B. When a faculty member has evidence suggesting that a student is guilty of academic dishonesty, the student should be confronted with the evidence at a meeting, preferably held in the faculty member's office within five (5) working days of the discovery of the alleged incident.
- C. After the meeting described above, the faculty member should determine the appropriate penalty for the act of dishonesty. This penalty, as determined by the faculty member, may be a failing or zero grade for the assignment in question or a failing grade in the course. The penalty should be consistent with any information published in the faculty member's syllabus. If the faculty member feels that issuance of a failing grade is an insufficient penalty, then the faculty member may request a formal meeting the Associate Dean over SEHD academic program.
- D. After determining the appropriate penalty, the faculty member should present the student with a written letter describing the alleged violation. Copies of this letter should be given to the student's faculty advisor, the Associate Dean of academic programs and a copy should be placed in the student's file housed within the Student Services Center.

This letter must include:

- a detailed description of the incident that resulted in the allegation of academic dishonesty;
- a statement of the penalty that will be imposed on the student;
- attachment: The SEHD Student Academic Appeal Process

Procedures for faculty that encounter violations of policies other than academic dishonesty

Violations of the student honor code that are unrelated to academic dishonesty should also be considered serious and reported to the School of Education & Human Development Associate Dean for Academics. The appropriate offices including campus police, CU Denver Office of Community Standards and Wellness and other appropriate offices may be contacted to report the violation. Consequences and outcomes will be determined by the appropriate parties given the severity of the offense.
